

Help Design Our Theatre Set!

Hello, my name's Hattie. I love to use sets that make you imagine
you're in space,

or on a boat, or at the seaside.

In one of our shows, we had a bed onstage that had been designed by a group of Year

Twos from a Primary School.
We asked them to design an amazing bed, then gave those designs to a fantastic Set

Designer who changed them into a real Set.

Now it's your turn. PaddleBoat need your help to design our new set. Watch this poem, with Katy signing,

about where our
play starts.

The clock
chimes five the sun sinks down

Its closing time
around the town
The baker
bakes his final batch
The landlord shuts the

serving hatch

The cobbler

finishes his last shoe

The butcher's

nothing left to do

Tills are closed and doors are locked

And empty shelves can be restocked

And then its time for home
and bed

Where they can rest their weary head
But when those shops shut
another opens
Like a beast
that's just been

woken

The shop lights up, it glows and gleams

Because this is the shop of the dreamer of dreams

Our new play
'Dream Maker'
starts in a mysterious shop that makes dreams. I have a few ideas about how the shop

looks, but I want some more. Your first task is to design the Dream Shop. You can do this how you want. You can paint a picture, and describe the different parts or you could change a room in your house and

email us a video.
Or, if you have a

shoebox, you could turn it into a set model box.

Time to get Crafting!

A set model box

is similar to a doll's house.

First I've found some things I might need, like some glue, some paper, some different boxes

and some paint.

Second, I need to think about what objects are in the shop.

Maybe some shelves, maybe a counter. Where are the dreams?

It's your choice.
I'm going to make a start on mine now.

These were a few of my ideas.

Please email us
yours and you can help us create an amazing set for PaddleBoat's
next show.

Thanks. Bye!
